

Dr. William Buslepp received his PhD in Accounting from Florida State University and his BA and MBA in Accounting from Michigan State University. His research examines the effects of regulation on financial intermediaries, specifically how the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board's (PCAOB) inspection process impacts audit quality. Dr. Buslepp's research has been published in The Accounting Review, Auditing: A Journal of Practice and Theory, and the Journal of Accounting and Public Policy. Prior to beginning his academic career, he worked in assurance and consulting services at PricewaterhouseCoopers and Arthur Andersen and was an international Accounting Manager for Sensient Technologies Corporation.