

Brandon Szerwo is an assistant professor of accounting the University at Buffalo, The State University of New York. He earned his Ph.D. in accounting from the University of Washington. His research focuses on understanding financial reporting quality and audit quality, with an emphasis on regulation and corporate governance. Prior to pursuing his Ph.D., Dr. Szerwo worked as an external auditor for Deloitte & Touche LLP for eight years.